

The open call for applications for an interdisciplinary training of European judges on the application and interpretation of EU competition law as part of the Antitrust Damages Actions project organized by the University of Macerata, Italy.

Driven by the goal of fostering a common legal and judicial culture across EU, the training program comprised of 10-hour distance training and four full-day classroom-taught sessions at the University of Macerata (Italy) will specifically examine:

- Directive 2014/104 on antitrust damages actions (and the Italian transposing legislation),
- Economic principles of competition law including economic principles and economic reasoning, and
- Specific terminology used in the application of competition law.

The training will conclude with a Conference dedicated to an open exchange of ideas on EU competition law between judges and governmental officials.

Participation (including four-night stay in Macerata) is free of charge. Some travel reimbursement is available (conditions apply).

The maximum number of participants is 20.

The deadline for application is 17 June 2018.

For further information, please consult the attached, visit the project's website at <http://adaproject.eu>, or email us at adaproject@unimc.it.